Burros Are Zoned Away From Trail

Historic Corrals are Closed to the Musical Burden Bearers

Council Receives Petition for Canyon Pool District Election

No longer will the picturesque burro send the tones of his musical voice pealing forth from the historic corrals at the foot of Mt. Wilson Trail. For forty years the little burden bearers of the trails have been quartered there. But the encroachment of residence property into the near neighborhood made the burros seem undesirable neighbors to many of the residents.

Accordingly, the city council yielded to the petition of these residents Monday night and adopted an ordinance zoning the burros out of that part of Sierra Madre. The new ordinance prohibits the maintaining of commercial stables and corrals but leaves the property zoned for ordinary business uses.

The ordinance was adopted over the protest of W. P. Caley, owner of the property. He pointed out the fact that the stables were there long before most of the petitioners purchased property and established their homes.

The ordinance was supported by E. H. Porter, T. J. Burns Jr., H. A. Rodgers and other property owners representing the petitioners. Mr. Porter pointed out that the general zoning ordinance was adopted when he was a member of the council. He said the council then regarded the corrals as undesirable in that location but had left them undisturbed with the thought that if they should ever cease to operate as such, the restriction could be imposed without injustice. The petition was circulated when the animals were removed from the corrals recently because of a new lineup in the packing business. Mr. Caley said he thought this was only temporary and hoped to rent again for the same purpose. Some of those favoring the ordinance expressed the view that his property would be more valuable for other purposes than for burro corrals anyway. The ordinance was adopted on motion of Councilman Isaacs.

New Plunge at Lake Norco to Stage Big Meet

One of the biggest swimming and diving meets ever held in Southern California will take place at the Lake Norconian Club near Corona on Sunday, September 9th. At a simple but impressive service in the Congregational Church Monday, Miss Mabel Short, niece of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Smith, 315 Virginia Avenue, Lamanda Park, became the bride of Frank Wilkinson, 1094 East Howard street, Pasadena. Rev. A. O. Pritchard read the service in the presence of friends and relatives. Miss Lavinia Moser attended the bride as maid of honor and James Surber acted as best man. After a honeymoon trip thru the southern part of the state, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson will live in Pasadena.

Latest Biography of Herbert Hoover At Public Library

Herbert Hoover, a reminiscence biography written by his friend, Will Irwin, is a book now obtainable at the public library. It rehearses in intimate detail the parts played by this great world figure in the war period, as well as giving an interesting outline of Hoover's birth, his youth and his struggles to attain an education.

The book is not in any sense political, as it was written before Hoover became a candidate for president. But it answers many questions that have been raised concerning him in the past few months. The story of this man's achievements throughout the world would be intensely interesting even if he had never come into the limelight of American affairs. As told by Irwin, it has all the fascination of fictional romance.

Rev. Moore Assigned to Tombstone

Rector of Ascension Parish Resigns to Go to Arizona

The Rev. H. D. Moore and family left Tuesday morning for Tombstone, Arizona, where Mr. Moore has been assigned by the bishop of the diocese of Arizona to take charge of the local Episcopal Parish. Mr. Moore's resignation as rector of the Church of the Ascension was submitted to a specially called meeting of the vestry on Saturday. It was accepted with regrets by that body.

During the past year in which the Rev. Mr. Moore has been in charge of the Church of the Ascension he and his family have made many friends here. Participation in musical, dramatic and social activities in addition to the usual church activities has meant much in local affairs.

Services next Sunday at the Church of the Ascension will be conducted by the Rev. Leslie Hill of Spokane, Wash. He has been in charge of a Los Angeles parish during the summer vacation and has already officiated at the local church on one or two occasions.

Cheaper to Move Than Pay Rent

There's an old gag which alleges it is "cheaper to move than to pay rent." This seems particularly plausible when the landlord doubles the rent.

The News is moving today from the quarters which it has occupied for the past twenty years. It will occupy temporary quarters for a month, pending completion of the handsome new building now being erected by C. S. Kersting. The unexpected move is occasioned by receipt of the following notice, served individually and collectively on the owners of the News:

Notice of Increase of Rent
Los Angeles, July 28, 1928.
To Sierra Madre Press
George B. Morgridge and Joe R. Eastwood.

You and each of you will please take notice that, beginning September 1st, 1928, the rent of the premises at Sierra Madre which you occupy for your printing establishment, will be at the rate of One Hundred Twenty-five Dollars ($125.00) per month, payable monthly in advance on the 1st day of each and every month during which you hold and occupy the same. All repairs and alterations are to be at the expense of the tenant.

Yours respectfully,
Robert Mitchell.
The News has been paying $65 per month for the quarters.

Temporary quarters of the News will be maintained in the building next door, through the courtesy of Mr. Eller, proprietor of the Elayne Motor Co., Hudson and Essex distributors.

Hudson and Essex motor cars will be displayed in the meantime in the show room at the corner of Central Ave. and Windsor Lane.

Seldom if ever in the history of Los Angeles County Fair which opens at Pomona Sept. 18 have there been so many advance entries as is the case this year.

Light Vote Registered At Primary

Sierra Madre Casts About Forty Percent of Its Total

Local Vote Above Average in Spite of Lack of Local Contests

Tuesday's primary election in Sierra Madre passed off quietly. However, the vote of approximately 500 exceeded the percentage cast in the county as a whole. And this in the face of there being no contests involving Sierra Madre as a special battleground.

Nomination of Hiram Johnson as Republican candidate for senator, W. E. Evans for congress, H. J. Evans for state senator, and J. V. Scofield for assemblyman were foregone conclusions.

Election of Burton Fitts as district attorney was expected, but the re-election of Henry W. Wright as supervisor at the primaries was something of a surprise.

Mayor McBain of Glendale made a powerful fight in the fifth district and with two other candidates opposing Mr. Wright, his clear majority attested a high degree of confidence in him.

The state building bond issue was defeated in the county as a whole, although Sierra Madre gave a vote of 314 to 149 in its favor. Conversely, Sierra Madre voted 205 to 222 against the county civil service charter amendment, while the county as a whole voted to give war veterans a preferential rating of 10 percent.

Considerable local interest was felt in the race of Judge Charles C. Montgomery, former resident and city attorney here. He was opposed by Judge Myron Westover who was elected. Sierra Madre gave Montgomery 340 votes to 156 for Westover.

Services next Sunday at the Church of the Ascension will be conducted by the Rev. Leslie Hill of Spokane, Wash. He has been in charge of a Los Angeles parish during the summer vacation and has already officiated at the local church on one or two occasions.

Hardware Co. Takes Local Agency for Atwater Kent Radio

The Sierra Madre Hardware Company announce this week that they have taken the exclusive local agency for Atwater Kent Radio sets. They have on display one of the latest model sets, the kind that just require plugging into an electric light socket to supply all the music within range. Atwater Kent is one of the most popular makes of radios and the new dealers are giving interesting demonstrations with them.

Woodson F. Jones Sells His Store to Hollywood People

Woodson F. Jones announces the sale of his store fixtures, stationery and gift shop to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gilmore of Hollywood. They will take possession September 1 and carry on the business at the same location, 31 North Baldwin.

Mrs. Gilmore has been conducting a stationery and gift shop in Hollywood. She will be assisted by their daughter, Miss Alice Gilmore, who has also had retail experience.

The Gilmores have leased the French home at 188 East Central, planning to make their home here.

Merchants Give Aid to Ball Team

Manager C. B. Scott and Emil Smith Collect Funds for Equipment

As the first indication of the goodwill of Sierra Madre businessmen toward the San Gabriel Valley League, C. B. Scott, local team manager, and Emil Smith, enthusiast and outstanding player, reported to the News today that their efforts to collect funds for uniforms and items of equipment for the local hard ball team had met with splendid success.

Much interest has been manifested in the proposed valley league since the announcement of its formation last week, and that the local interest is sincere is more than evidenced by the generous contributions received.

Mr. Scott has already "signed up" several players of established reputation and when the league schedule starts he hopes to have a team that will give as good an account of itself as did the "soft ball" team that made such a fine showing in the Monrovia Twilight League.

The new diamond is rapidly being put in fine shape, being wet down, dragged and rolled at frequent intervals, and will be one of the best diamonds in the league.

It is gratifying to see Sierra Madre thus emerge, almost overnight, from a city where baseball was a thing to be read about in city newspapers, to what may be termed a baseball "hot spot."

The new diamond is being kept plenty busy by youngsters and grownups, practices being held almost every evening. It is understood that Mr. Scott and his co-workers have some special plans in the making for a real gala day at the opening of the season, the date to be announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adelmeier and little daughter, Betty Jean, arrived on Saturday from Hooker, Okla., where they have been spending the summer, with such light summer amusements as putting in 2400 acres of wheat. They were accompanied by Mr. Adelmeier's mother, Mrs. J. G. Adelmeier, and by Mrs. O. Moody, Mrs. Adelmeier's mother.

Study to Be Given Whole School Plan

Central Service Committee Names Group to Make Investigation

Unbiased Statement of Facts To Be Presented to the Public

Thoroughgoing investigation of the Sierra Madre school situation has been undertaken by a committee representing the Central Service Committee as the outcome of a meeting held Monday night.

E. D. Burbank presided in the absence of George Norris, chairman. Members present were Messrs. Burbank, Fred Griebein, and J. M. Campbell, representing the chamber of commerce; Ray A. Grant and A. Russell representing Kiwanis, Ralph Stewart and Geo. Haagood representing the American Legion. Mrs. Fletcher H. White and Mrs. Emil Sturthal, members of the Woman's Club were also present, although the club representatives on the Central committee have not yet been designated.

The various changes in school arrangements for which there has been agitation were discussed at some length. The general opinion was that insufficient information was at hand upon which to recommend a definite program. It was also felt that the public should have a complete statement of all the facts in the situation, prepared without failure under older statutes.

New Well to Be Drilled By Arcadia

Additional Drain to Be Put On Santa Anita Basin Supply

Question Raised As to Local Membership in Water District

Another well is to be sunk in the Santa Anita basin by the city of Arcadia, according to reports of the Arcadia council meeting last week. Specifications were ordered for a well 500 feet deep with a 14-inch casing.

It was reported the council decided to have the well drilled at once because of prevailing low prices on casing material. With a trade war on, it is believed a saving of about $1500 will be made in the cost of the well.

The new well will be located on the Live Oak Avenue property where Arcadia already has several wells and reservoirs. These wells are about a quarter-mile from the two Sierra Madre wells, and the effect of pumping at either plant is observed very soon by a lowering of the water level at the other wells. The effect of another well on the Sierra Madre wells will be watched with interest by the local water department.

Will Sierra Madre become a part of the metropolitan water district, now being formed to bring water from the Colorado River? That question has been raised by announcement that the city of Los Angeles has taken initial legislative steps for the creation of the district. The name of Sierra Madre does not appear among the cities said to be forming the district, which are Arcadia, Beverly Hills, Burbank, Covina, Culver City, Glendale, Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Marino, Santa Monica and Whittier, and some cities in Orange and Riverside counties.

In the early stages of the Colorado River investigation Sierra Madre participated to the extent of contributing to the expense fund. Several citizens have raised the question as to just where, when and why Sierra Madre disappeared from the picture, and indicate a disposition to bring the matter before the council soon.

WHAT'S THE MATTER?

FROM the days when the city of Sierra Madre required the services of an engineer and staff only a small part of the time, we have inherited the present practice in the city engineering department.

In those early days the only way the city could hire an engineer was on a part time basis. He was paid so much per day. He hired such assistants as he needed and sold their services to the city at a legitimate profit.

Nowadays the city pays the city engineer for a large part of his personal time, and also pays him for the full time of his chief assistant and from one to half a dozen field crews. Doesn't it seem the city has outgrown the old method of hiring the engineer on a per diem basis and buying the services of all his assistants at a profit?

Like all other heads of departments, the city engineer is responsible to the city's executive head. This, as has been brought out previously, is the majority of the council when in session.

The integrity of the city engineer is not in question. But, like every other business man who has something to sell the city, it is to his interest to sell all of it the city can use. The present organization of the city government does not give a sufficient check on what is purchased nor on its actual necessity. Councilmen do not have sufficient knowledge as to how engineering costs on any given project are piling up.

And when the engineering bills are all paid, what does the city have for the money? Simply the finished maps and specifications for each particular job. The field notes and supporting data which have been compiled in arriving at the finished job remain the property of the engineer. If a later job requires going over the same ground in whole or part, the engineer is in position to require the city to pay for a duplication of work already done. Would it not be more sensible to have the city engineer on a salary basis, supervising such assistants as it is necessary to hire, and keeping all field notes and other engineering data in the quarters already provided in the new city hall as a part of the public records?

As was said last week in this column, the existing practice does not permit the present capable engineering staff to do justice to themselves or to the city. It involves criticisms for which they should not be held responsible. The archaic method of handling city engineering is just one more of the many weaknesses which answer the question, "What's the matter with our city government?"

AL SMITH'S application for the job of president is accompanied by written recommendations from many prominent people who describe him as an expert in the science of government. Those "recommends" were evidently given before Al made his famous acceptance speech.

Posing as a believer in the temperate use of liquor, Al proposes liquor legislation which would result in the greatest era of debauchery the country ever saw. The medley of local option interpretations of the Eighteenth Amendment which he proposes is beyond serious consideration.

William Allen White is right. Governor Smith can't erase the stripes of the Tammany Tiger. The truth is that he wants booze sold freely wherever there are buyers. For that is the vote to which he knows how to appeal.

His nullification program is not his only fallacy. In the face of Hoover's direct endorsement of Boulder Dam construction, Smith proposes to set up an interstate commission which would be one of the loveliest pie-purveyors ever invented. And the longer it took to get action on Boulder Dam the longer the pie would last.

As an expert in government, Al Smith is what might be expected from his Tammany training.

CENTRAL AVENUE

BETWEEN the importunities of people who have something to sell and the terror of some people over spending a nickel, the Central Avenue project has a perilous course ahead. It has been said you can always depend on some little group effectually blocking any worth-while improvement that is proposed in Sierra Madre. Will it happen again this time?

Opposition to the project as now proposed appears to be due to mixed motives. Part of it seems to hang on dislike of some advocates of white paving, and part of it appears due to a desire to block the activities of some advocates of black paving.

Part of it is due to belief that some of the street will be wider than necessary, and some criticism says other parts of the highway ought to be wider than planned. All who speak out loud declare a heartfelt interest in the opening of Central Avenue, but some of them have not within memory's range been known to favor any local improvement that would cost them anything.

Sierra Madre people have been working more than twenty years for the opening and improvement of Central Avenue to the west. The picture has always been drawn of Sierra Madre as on an important and well improved highway. Without question it is the biggest single improvement project before the city and would mean more than any other in its returns. Don't let it get into a jam over comparatively minor details.

WHY PAY FOR TWO?

JOHN H. Casey, associate professor and newspaper specialist, University of Oklahoma, stated recently in an interview:

"The more I see of these one-newspaper towns the better I like them. After all, why should a small town be forced to support two rival newspapers just because the publishers are politically or personally such bitter enemies that neither will say die? Most of us would readily agree that a newspaper dedicated to boosting the stock of one church congregation and running down every other congregation in town should be declared a public nuisance rather than regarded as a public benefit. Yet, the newspaper that is so partisan politically that half the community is openly insulted in each issue, still survives."

In small towns the newspaper that serves satisfactorily the whole community is increasing in popularity, and prospering. Two newspapers in a very small town often stir up more strife than they inspire good deeds."

The San Gabriel Sun and San Gabriel Valley Leader are listed among the consolidations of rival newspapers during the past week. The day of two-newspapers is just about past, and the past year has marked the consolidation of hundreds of plants in all parts of the United States. The trade journals run columns of newspaper machinery "wants" starting with the words: "Due to consolidation, the following list of newspaper machinery equipment is for sale: . . ." A few years ago a good plant could be established at a cost of a few thousand dollars. Nowadays a good newspaper plant will invoice as much as any business house in the town. It takes real money to equip a plant and hard work to make it pay, magazine stories to the contrary notwithstanding.

WORK ACTIVITIES IN HEALTH SCHOOL

Work or play—both, when saws, hammers, scissors and paints are applied in handwork hour at Health School.

Children really live in Health School activities. No child is urged to make something in which he has no interest. But every child has an opportunity to saw and paint to his heart's content—learning to make what he always wanted to make.

Fundamental habits of health and sane living are in these work-play activities. The child has to decide what he will make; he has to do orderly thinking on how to work and what he wants his boat, house or jump rope to be when finished. Then he must set to work and work hard until the task is finished. The wise teacher helps the child to rate himself in his work by suggesting "you make the best you can"—not "make as good as the rest".

Thrift, cleanliness and orderliness are learned in toy making. Broken toys are mended; paint brushes are cleaned and tools put back in order. Tooth brush holders and coat hangers are made to be pleasant reminders of health and orderliness rules.

Learning to work with others is an invaluable lesson for the child. Each must take his turn in sharing tools and responsibilities in the work room. Equally valuable for the child is learning to work quietly alone at his own bench. The child forms the habit of efficient concentration when his work-play activities are respected and not interrupted. A steady attitude toward work is an essential to healthy, sane mental life.

Health schools demonstrate that only very simple things are needed to lead a child into a world of re-creative activity which is a child's natural world of joyful living.

Film Talent Plays
In Youth Drama
At the Playhouse

One of the havens of hope for the silent players of the screen drama is the so-called little theatre now that silent actors are faced with a new problem because of the advent of talking pictures. Producers are promising good drama by way of the loud speaker, and "speechless" players know what that means—it is to speak up or fade out.

At least two well known screen players believe they know their way out of the dilemma, and their first appearances in person in spoken drama will be with the Pasadena Community Playhouse in "Puppy Love," by Adelaide Mathews and Martha Stanley, Sept. 4 to 15. The actors are Robert Seiter and Pat Cuning, who have been featured in Fox, Universal and F.B.O. pictures.

Other members of the cast are Martha Dean, teacher in the woman's physical education department, University of California; Los Angeles; Mrs. Blanche Coolidge, Kathleen Fitz, Virginia Lykins Brown, Madge Cleveland, Richard Menefee, Laddie Knudson and Thomas de Graffenreid.

Dr. Philip Stephens, chief surgeon of the Union Pacific system at Los Angeles, was elected president of the Pacific Coast Railway Surgeons Association last week at Air fans will witness the greatest continuous aerial spectacle in the history of aviation at the National Air Races and Aeronautical Exposition, opening September 8 at Mines Field, to judge by the completed program of events made public by the program committee. The gates will be opened at 10 o'clock at the big air meet and continue until 10, each day. It is stated that the principal difficulty confronting the committee is to find time for everything scheduled on the nine-day program.

Red Cross Quota for China
Shipment to Be Ready
Next Week

Christmas bags for American soldiers in the Orient must be completed and ready for shipment from Sierra Madre by September 8, according to information received from San Francisco headquarters of the American Red Cross. This is one of the activities carried on annually by the Sierra Madre chapter and a special effort will be made this year to supply the increased quota re-

The chairman of production, Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, asks all who are interested in this pleasure-giving branch of the service to make their donations promptly. Those who would like to join in this work of sending cheer to our men in faraway places may donate cash for a complete bag, or may choose any of the following articles for gifts: Handkerchiefs, socks, garters, cuff links, diaries, wallets or bill folds, tobacco pouches, memo books, pocket knives, needle cases, pretty Christmas favors, Christmas cards, playing cards, puzzles, harmonicas and small games.

"Please bear in mind," says Mrs. Steinberger, "that the articles are to be Christmas gifts, and often the Red Cross Christmas bag is the only gift the service man receives. Let the articles, therefore, be such as you would send to a friend."

Those who wish to donate an individual bag may send $2.00 in cash to Mrs. Steinberger. With this may be enclosed a personal greeting with name and address of the donor, so that a direct acknowledgement may be sent by the recipient.

Mrs. Steinberger asks the members of the production committee to meet at her home on Thursday, September 6, at 11 a.m., to make up the bags. The committee will also plan to wrap the gifts with appropriate gaiety. The committee will plan to fill the bags ready for shipment on Saturday, Sept. 8. It is therefore necessary that all gifts be in not later than that date.

All donations may be left at Sailler's store. They should be marked with the donor's name. To date the following have each donated a complete bag: Miss Lydia Webster, Mrs. E. H. Vanner, Mrs. L. E. Steinberger, Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger.

Sierra Madre Party Returns
From Huntington Lake Outing

Last Friday marked the arrival home of a large party of Sierra Madre folk who have been enjoying the summer at Huntington Lake in the High Sierras. The party included Miss Helen Wones and her mother, Mrs. Wones of Long Beach, Mrs. Newman and Miss Claire Newman, Mrs. M. L. Sinnott and two children, James and Catherine, Francis Finn of Sierra Madre Canyon and Betty Risdon of Long Beach.

Misses Newman and Wones, who are members of the public school teaching staff, attended the summer session of the Fresno state normal school, which is held annually at the lake. Mrs. Newman found abundant material to keep her busy with her brushes, putting onto canvas some of the magnificent scenery of the region. James Sinnott had an opportunity to accompany a party on a saddle trip of more than two weeks into the more remote regions of the Sierras.

Later switch to asphalt paving. Citizens who had looked for a skirmish in the war between the Whites and the Blacks were thus disappointed. Previous to the meeting it had been reported that Mr. Topping had secured more than a majority petition in favor of cement concrete paving. But several of those who spoke during the meeting said they thought the present paving on West Central Avenue was good enough and should not be disturbed.

Members of an executive committee to work with the officers in carrying forward investigations of the various phases of the enterprise were elected as follows: T. J. Burns, Jr., W. A. Evans,

N. W. Tarr and E. D. Topping. A meeting of association members was held last night. A conference between the association and city officials has also been arranged for next Thursday night, Sept. 6. At that time it is hoped representatives of the county and the other cities will be present for consideration of the project.

A request for a male student to aid in correcting the speech imperfections of foreign vitaphone artists was among the unique calls for student help listed with the University of Southern California bureau of employment, which this summer has placed hundreds of students in a variety of positions, including moving picture extras, book translators, social secretaries, hostesses in cabarets, orchestras in ukulele and harmonica, young men to drive parties east, etc.

All who ever lived in Kansas are called to meet for a great picnic reunion all day Saturday, Sept. 8, 1928, in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles. Brief program at 2 o'clock.

PASADENA...city of Beautiful Homes

lights its new Civic Center with
MARBELITE

PASADENA...widely recognized as a city of discriminating taste and conservative judgment...has installed MARBELITE Street Lighting Standards to illuminate and add to the beauty of its new Civic Center. Another tribute to the outstanding superiority of the products of the MARBELITE CORPORATION OF AMERICA.

In addition to Pasadena...more than 60 California cities, as well as numerous municipalities of other states, have shown their approval of MARBELITE by placing these beautiful, durable standards along their boulevards. The United States Government, too, is an extensive user of MARBELITE products.

Marbelite would be a good standard for Central Avenue!
